Welcome to our 5th annual San Diego Dragon Boat Festival! Dragon boats and festivities return to San Diego's Playa Pacifica in Mission Bay Park on Saturday, May 2nd, 2009, 9am to 5pm. The festival is free and open to the public.

Dragon boat festival, traditionally celebrated on duanwujie, the 5th day of the 5th lunar month (May 28th this year), continues more than 2000 years of dragon boat racing in remembrance of Qu Yuan, a wise and true poet and patriot. From its beginnings, dragon boat racing has spread far beyond China to become an international sport, with San Diego's Dragon Boat Team one of the premier teams on the international scene.

San Diego's Dragon Boat Festival invites you to

- experience the pageantry and ritual of dragon boat racing,
- celebrate the diversity of the rich cultural heritage of our Asian Pacific Islander communities
- spend a day at Mission Bay Park, where land meets water
- revel in being part of a greater community - San Diego, still America's finest city!

Our Festivals have supported & showcased Asian Pacific Islander

- performing artists, including Bhava Balinese Dance, Cambodian Dancers of SD, Formosa Dancers, Heali'i Polynesian Revue, Hmong Vang Dancers, Hung Vuong Sports Club, Lao Hmong Family Dancers, Lucky Lion Dancers, Makani Kai Polynesian Dance, Moonlight Chinese Dance Group, PASACAT Filipino Arts, Pho Bangers breakdancers, Reiko Obata & East-West Trio, SD Taiko, Terry Matsuoka, Thai Dance of SD

- and visual artists, including Danny H Chang, Ginger Che, Takashi Harada, Fujiko Isomura, Cesar Magpuri, Winci Tang, Tomo Uyesugi.

Alliance is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization (EIN 75-2999849), and donates net proceeds from our Festivals to Asian Pacific Islander organizations such as APIAVote, Lao Community Cultural Center, Pan Pacific Law Enforcement Association, SDSU AB Samahan, SDSU APSA (Asian Pacific Student Alliance) & UCSD APSA.

Come celebrate with us!
